Education Volunteers

The Institute is looking to use our volunteers more effectively. We have come to realize our volunteers are very knowledgeable on a variety of topics and many may be willing to share that information with the public in certain settings. The following will help Institute staff identify opportunities for you to share your experiences and knowledge with guests at the Institute. This could be in public programs or with groups that are asking for a program as part of a facility rental. Staff members can help you put your program together and provide equipment that you may need.

Please describe the topics you feel comfortable presenting:

What types of audiences do you feel comfortable working with?

When would you be available to give a program?
